Diomedes Islands: Year 1990

In order to link the Diomedes, I propose transposing the two islands by reconstructing Big Diomedede Island ten kilometers north of the present location of Little Diomedede Island and by reconstructing North Diomedede Island ten kilometers north of the present location of Big Diomedede Island. Each country's buildings, docks, and other structures would be rebuilt on the new island.

Diomedes Islands: Year 2015

In order to both account for differences in size between the two islands and preserve the cultural integrity of native people who have lived on the Diomedes for centuries, the majority of land on Big Diomedede Island (now in U.S. waters) would become an international world park dedicated to virtually the exclusive use of the native peoples.
